

Bet Dieting

Written by Charles Harris

Sunday, 15 January 2012 11:34

Buying a used BMW 3 Series is a wise move if you want to save VAT from new car prices. You can save several thousand pounds if you consider buying a used BMW 3 Series Diesel as an ex demonstrator vehicle from a franchised dealer. Car dealers normally register these vehicles to the dealership, where the manufacturer guidelines state that they have to be shown on the books for a minimum of three months. These vehicles can then be bought at a great price with low mileage on the clock, having only been used for test drives. These vehicles are also VAT qualifying.